PICK A PATH TO ADVENTURE™

RENEGADES OF LUNTAR

You are Joshua MacKenzie, a young astronaut living at Ares Base on Mars in the year 2085. While exploring, you find the remains of a renegade society that lived thousands of years ago. Among those remains are Searcher, a fantastic ruby computer laser weapon, and another defense computer that is preparing to destroy the new "invaders"—the Earth people at Ares Base, and perhaps even Earth itself.

The destruction is about to start, and only you can stop it. You use Searcher's help to translate Luntarian writing and fight strange and powerful robots.

Just as important is your own knowledge of Mars. This CRIMSON CRYSTAL™ adventure features a special section called "Living on Mars: A.D. 2085," which will help you make the choices that will save your friends at Ares Base and your home planet.

All ENDLESS QUEST™ books allow you to make the decisions. You choose the paths to follow. But CRIMSON CRYSTAL™ Adventures offer something more—a unique way of finding clues to lead you along the right path—you hope. To see how this magic works, turn to page 1 and start reading.
